

No Careers Here

This is a Reform UK Scotland Position Paper

One of the biggest complaints that people have about politicians is that they don't understand the real world and are out of touch with ordinary folk. We agree.

Our party is made up of ordinary people who live in the real world and are fed up with the mess that careerist politicians have made of our society. We all have real world jobs and have become involved in politics because of our fear, frustration and fury. Fear of what could happen to our country, frustration that nobody seems to be fighting against it, and fury that we should have to do the fighting ourselves.

We will make sure that our party is never taken over by careerists by only allowing people with a good deal of real life trade, commerce or professional experience to become candidates, and by limiting any successful candidate to no more than two terms in any office. This will ensure that our party will only be attractive to people whose aim in life is to help others live better and freer lives and not the self-seekers.

If you have ever thought that your elected representatives are not doing their jobs and you could do better, this is your chance to find out. We don't care about degrees or fancy titles, we need people with common sense, an ability to graft and a burning desire to make the country a better place for themselves, their children and grandchildren.
